GHAZIABAD SHOCKER: LANDLADY SMASHED ON HEAD WITH PRESSURE COOKER LID AFTER RENTAL DISPUTE

Diary Times Desk : Two days after a couple allegedly killed their landlady and stuffed the body in a red suitcase in Ghaziabad, chilling details of the murder and the motive behind it emerged on Friday. According to police, the accused, Akriti Gupta (33), strangled the woman with a scarf after a heated argument over unpaid rent, while her husband, Ajay Gupta (35), struck on her head with a pressure cooker lid. The incident occurred around 8 pm on Wednesday when Deepshikha Sharma (48) had gone to the couple's house in Aura Chimera Society in Rajnagar Extension, to collect five months of pending rent. A heated argument ensued, during which she allegedly bit Ajay Gupta in self-defence. In retaliation, Akriti strangled her with a scarf and Ajay struck her on the head with a pressure cooker lid, resulting in her death on the spot, Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) Nandram Upasna Pandey said. The couple then stuffed her body in a red suitcase and concealed it in the storage box of a double bed, the ACP said. When Deepshikha did not return home till late night, her domestic help, Minni, went to the tenants' flat to check on her. Growing suspicious, she searched the flat and discovered the suitcase containing the body. She then alerted police at around 11.15 pm, following which a police team reached the spot and arrested the couple. The body was sent for a post-mortem. On Thursday, Ajay Gupta and Akriti Gupta were produced before the court of the Chief Judicial Magistrate.

INDIAN RESEARCHERS DISCOVER NEW ELEMENT TO TACKLE ALZHEIMER'S, CANCER

Diary Times Desk : Indian researchers have discovered a new element in autophagy, the body's natural self-cleansing process through the removal of dead or damaged cells, which could help develop therapeutic strategies for diseases like Alzheimer's, Parkinson's and cancer. Identification of key players in the early steps of autophagosome biogenesis, a key process in which the cells create a double-membrane sack that captures and isolates cellular debris, pathogens or damaged organelles for recycling, can lay the foundations for modulating the pathway for finding interventions in such diseases. When a cell fails to clear waste, its health suffers, especially in long-lived neurons. The autophagy pathway, which removes damaged material and defends against infections, is disrupted in diseases like Alzheimer's and Huntington's. Autophagy also has dual roles in cancer, by preventing it early on but supporting tumour growth later. Autophagy acts as tumour suppressor by maintaining genome integrity and cellular homeostasis by clearing cellular junk, but it is also a double-edged sword as certain types of cancer cells hijack autophagy for their own survival and propagation.

INDIA'S TRADE DEFICIT WITH CHINA MAY REACH USD 106 BILLION IN 2025: GTRI

Diary Times Desk : India's trade deficit with China is expected to widen to USD 106 billion in 2025 as imports continue to rise much faster than exports to the neighbouring country, according to a report released on Friday by the Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI). India's exports to China fell from USD 23 billion in 2021 to USD 15.2 billion in 2022, remained subdued at USD 14.5 billion in 2023, and edged up slightly to USD 15.1 billion in 2024. In 2025, exports are projected to improve to USD 17.5 billion, still well below earlier levels, the think tank said. In contrast, imports from China have grown sharply, rising from USD 87.7 billion in 2021 to USD 102.6 billion in 2022, before moderating to USD 91.8 billion in 2023 and then jumping to USD 109.6 billion in 2024. "This has pushed India's trade deficit with China from USD 64.7 billion in 2021 to USD 94.5 billion in 2024, and an expected USD 106 billion in 2025," GTRI founder Ajay Srivastava said. On December 16, Minister of State for Commerce and Industry Jitin Prasada told the Lok Sabha in a written reply that the widening deficit is mainly due to imports of raw materials, intermediate goods and capital goods such as auto components, electronic parts and assemblies.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT SET TO RELEASE EPSTEIN FILES AFTER YEARS OF SECRECY

Diary Times Desk : The US Justice Department faces a Friday deadline to release its files on Jeffrey Epstein, the convicted sex offender and wealthy financier whose ties to some of the world's most influential figures, including Donald Trump, have long drawn scrutiny. As president, Trump had sought to keep the records sealed.

The documents could offer the most detailed account yet of nearly two decades of government investigations into Epstein's sexual abuse of young women and underage girls. Their release has been repeatedly demanded by a public eager to know whether Epstein's powerful associates knew about, or participated in, the abuse. Epstein's accusers have also sought answers about why federal authorities shut down an initial investigation in 2008.

Under mounting political pressure from fellow Republicans, Trump signed a bill on November 19 giving the Justice Department 30 days to release most of its files and communications related to Epstein, including material connected to the investigation into Epstein's death in a federal jail. The department has not said when during the day the records will be made public.

The law's passage marked a rare display of bipartisanship, overcoming months of opposition from Trump and Republican leadership.

The schoolgirl left the safety of her hiding spot, pulled the children to safety and jumped on top of them, covering their bodies with her own. At some point, she was shot in the thigh. But she kept shielding them, reciting the Shema, a Jewish prayer. "I knew I got shot, but I wasn't even worried. I channelled all the energy I had into strength, and I made sure I stayed there for those kids," she said. "If I could give up my life to save these children, that's what I was going to do." Her father eventually found them and took her to get medical help. "When he found me, he told me later that I had the girl in one arm and the boy in the other, and I was just kissing them," she said. Sunday's attack, which officials described as an act of terrorism, killed 15 people and wounded dozens more in Australia's worst mass shooting in nearly three decades. On Thursday, House Democrats released approximately 70 photographs obtained from Epstein's computer and email accounts. LIGHTNING STRIKE ON BURJ KHALIFA?

DUBAI CROWN PRINCE SHARES 'THUNDERSTRUCK' MOMENT

Diary Times Desk : Dubai's Crown Prince Sheikh Hamdan bin Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum—better known online as Fazza—posted a video that turned the Burj Khalifa into a lightning-strike stage. The prince simply captioned it "Dubai" and added a cloud-rain and high-voltage emoji.

The footage went viral in minutes. Social feeds lit up with comments ranging from "WOW, nature just signed an exclusive with the Burj!" to "That's one way to power a skyscraper." The timing was no coincidence: the UAE was in the thick of the Al Bashayer low-pressure system, the National Centre of Meteorology (NCM) having warned of heavy rain, thunder, lightning and possible hail across several emirates.

PAKISTANIS TO SWEAT MORE AS IMF TURNS DOWN SHEHBAZ SHARIF'S REQUEST TO SLASH TAXES ON CONDOMS

Diary Times Desk : The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has rejected Pakistan's request to immediately withdraw the 18 per cent General Sales Tax (GST) on condoms and other contraceptives, dealing a setback to the government's efforts to make birth-control products more affordable amid rapid population growth. According to reports, the IMF informed Islamabad that any exemption or reduction in taxes on contraceptives can only be considered during the next federal budget cycle. The lender cited Pakistan's struggle to meet revised revenue targets under its ongoing bailout programme and warned that tax relief could weaken enforcement and increase the risk of smuggling. Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif's government had sought relief from the GST, arguing that the tax—introduced through successive mini-budgets to satisfy IMF revenue conditions—has effectively turned essential reproductive health products into luxury items, placing them beyond the reach of low-income households. Pakistan's Federal Board of Revenue (FBR) raised the issue with IMF officials in Washington through email correspondence and a virtual meeting. The proposed exemption was estimated to result in a revenue loss of PKR 400–600 million.

COLDPLAY SCANDAL: 'EVEN IF I DID HAVE AN AFFAIR...' KRISTIN CABOT BREAKS SILENCE ON VIRAL 'KISS CAM' VIDEO

Diary Times Desk : When the lights went down at the Coldplay concert in July, Kristin Cabot, 53-year-old HR veteran and mother of two from New Hampshire, thought she'd just dance, have a few "High Noons" and let the night swallow her. Instead, the stadium's jumbotron swallowed her—and her boss, CEO Andy Byron—in a close-embrace that went viral, sparked death threats, divorce papers, resignations and a meme that branded her the "most maligned HR manager in history." In a series of candid interviews with The New York Times and The Times of London, Cabot finally breaks her silence. "I made a bad decision and had a couple of High Noons and danced and acted inappropriately with my boss," she admits. "I gave up my career for that. That's the price I chose to pay." "But even if I did have an affair, it's not anybody's business." She describes a "big happy crush" on Byron, who was also separated at the time. Their first—and only—kiss happened in the pitch-black back rows of a 60,000-person arena.

THE HANDSHAKE THAT WENT VIRAL: WATCH GIORGIA MELONI 'LOOK UP' TO DANIEL CHAPO

Diary Times Desk : Italian Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni recently hosted Mozambican President Daniel Chapo at Palazzo Chigi for talks on trade, energy and climate resilience. What should have been a normal diplomatic handshake soon turned into an Internet meme after the cameras caught something else entirely: a 2-foot height gap that left Meloni 'looking up'—and a little sheepish. Chapo, 48, is said to tower at 6ft8in, while Meloni clocks in at 5ft2in. As the two approached the photo-op, the camera's captured Meloni's reaction. There were also some photographers who even lay on the floor—just to fit both leaders into a single frame. The clip spread like wildfire on X, Instagram and TikTok. Users coined hashtags like #HeightDiplomacy and #TowerOfRome, and memes ranged from "When the UN finally gets a 'standing ovation'" to "Meloni's new stretch-goal: reaching the podium". Many noted Chapo's reputation as a basketball fan and joked that he brought his "court-sized presence" to Italy.

UNREST AFTER HADI'S DEATH: BORDER GUARD BANGLADESH DEPLOYED ACROSS DHAKA TO MAINTAIN LAW AND ORDER

Diary Times Desk : Border Guard Bangladesh (BGB) personnel have been deployed at multiple strategic locations across Dhaka to maintain law and order ahead of the arrival of the body of slain political activist Sharif Osman Hadi from Singapore, according to bdnews24. In a statement issued on Friday, the BGB said troops have been positioned in the airport area, Karwan Bazar, the Hotel InterContinental zone and other key points in the capital, as security concerns remain high following protests and incidents of violence triggered by the youth leader Hadi's killing. The deployment comes as Dhaka continues to witness unrest following the death of Hadi, the convenor and spokesperson of 'Inqilab Moncho', who was shot at close range on December 12 while travelling in a rickshaw in Dhaka's Bijoynagar area. Critically injured, he was first taken to Dhaka Medical College Hospital and later shifted to Evercare Hospital for intensive care. Cautioning US nationals about safety risks amid the gathering of large crowds, the embassy said, "U.S. citizens should practice vigilance and remember that gatherings intended to be peaceful can turn confrontational and escalate into violence."

BANGLADESH'S POLITICAL SHIFT RAISES ALARM OVER MINORITY SAFETY, REGIONAL STABILITY

Diary Times Desk : A recent statement by Hasnat Abdullah, a leader and Southern Chief Organiser of Bangladesh's newly formed National Citizen Party (NCP), warning that India's northeastern "Seven Sisters" could be isolated if Bangladesh were "destabilised", has triggered concern among regional observers, according to the report by the Times of Israel. Analysts say the remarks reflect a deeper shift in Bangladesh's political and social landscape following last year's political transition. Since the ouster of former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina in August 2024 and the subsequent assumption of authority by Muhammad Yunus, Bangladesh has witnessed increasingly hardline rhetoric, a resurgence of Islamist networks, and a marked rise in violence against religious minorities. Political transitions often create power vacuums, and analysts note that Bangladesh's post-2024 environment has seen such a vacuum filled by forces drawing on grievance-driven.

PAKISTAN FLOOD-HIT FARMERS MOVE CLIMATE JUSTICE CASE IN GERMANY AGAINST TOP POLLUTERS

Diary Times Desk : Farmers affected by Pakistan's catastrophic 2022 floods announced plans to move a climate justice claim in Germany against two leading global carbon emitters, asserting that the scale of devastation highlighted Pakistan's severe exposure to climate change impacts, though it contributes just one per cent to global greenhouse gas emissions, according to Dawn. The decision was announced at a press conference at the Karachi Press Club by farmer claimants Hamza Khan Kalhoro, Abdul Hafeez Khoso and Abdul Khalil Leghari, representing flood-ravaged areas of Larkana, Jacobabad and Dadu. The organisers said the farmers are set to initiate climate accountability proceedings in Germany against two companies listed among the world's largest carbon dioxide emitters. Details shared at the briefing indicated that the legal action would be filed under German civil law.

"DARKEST NIGHT; ATTACK ON FREEDOM OF SPEECH, NEWS MEDIA": EXECUTIVE EDITOR OF VANDALISED MEDIA HOUSE PROTHOM ALO IN BANGLADESH

Diary Times Desk : Calling it the "darkest night" for journalism in the country, Prothom Alo Executive Editor Sajjad Sharif on Friday said the vandalism of the newspaper's office in Dhaka's Karwanbazar was a direct assault on freedom of speech and the news media in Bangladesh, forcing the newspaper to halt print publication for the first time in its 27-year history since its establishment in 1998.

The attack on the news outlets came after the death of Inquilab Mancha spokesperson Sharif Osman Bin Hadi, one of the prominent figures of last year's July Uprising, when a group of people gathered in front of the offices of the newspapers and attacked them, as per Nagorik. The "miscreants" described by the Sharif also attacked another media outlet, the Daily Star, in the same area. Speaking to ANI following the vandalism, the Executive Editor said that Hadi's killing had sparked anger across society, which was allegedly diverted by miscreants towards media organisations.

Highlighting endurance as a strategic factor, Zelensky said in a post on X, "If we know - and if Putin knows - that we can stay resilient, then his reason to drag-out this war becomes much weaker," framing resilience as a tool that alters the aggressor's calculations and affects the overall trajectory of the conflict. Building on this, the Ukrainian President described resilience as a form of pressure intended to change Russia's approach to the war. "This is how pressure on the aggressor should work - pressure that brings peace," he said, situating Ukraine's resolve within a broader strategy to deter further escalation.

HUMAN RIGHTS WATCH REPORT HIGHLIGHTS RISE IN SEXUAL HARASSMENT OF EXILED CHINESE ACTIVISTS

Diary Times Desk : China's authorities have long attempted to quash dissent internationally, but there has been a troubling rise in harassment involving sexually explicit letters aimed at activists outside its borders, as highlighted in a report by Human Rights Watch (HRW). Carmen Lau and Ted Hui, activists from Hong Kong now living in exile, face arrest warrants in Hong Kong due to the repressive National Security Law. They disclosed last week that unknown individuals were disseminating sexually explicit deepfakes of them and their families in the United Kingdom and Australia. Although police inquiries in both nations have been unable to determine the source of these images, a Chinese government spokesperson defended the action of pursuing "wanted fugitives" as "legitimate and reasonable," according to the HRW report. In 2024, there was proof of direct involvement from the Chinese government in a similar incident when anonymous online accounts spread threatening and sexually explicit posts aimed at the 16-year-old daughter of Deng Yuwen, a critic of the Chinese government residing in the US; these posts were later traced back to Chinese security agencies.

CHINA'S SLOWDOWN DEEPENS AS INVESTMENT FALLS; RETAIL SALES HIT POST-COVID LOW IN NOV

Diary Times Desk : China's investment continued to decline in November, while retail sales experienced their slowest growth since the government lifted strict COVID-19 restrictions, as reported by The Epoch Times (TET). Retail sales, which measure consumer spending, grew by 1.3 per cent year over year, slowing from a 2.9 per cent increase in October. This outcome marked the lowest performance since December 2022, when China's stringent COVID-19 measures were lifted, as noted in the TET report. "November figures indicate widespread weakness in domestic activity, mainly due to a reduction in fiscal expenditures," said Huang Zichun, an economist at Capital Economics.

Diary Times Desk : India is engaging with countries where Halal certification for the export of meat and meat products is mandatory, Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal said on Friday. The India-Oman Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA) signed yesterday facilitates mutual recognition arrangements for Halal certification, acceptance of India's NPOP certification for organic products, and enhanced cooperation in standards and conformity assessment. "For many years, three-four years, we have been trying to get the Gulf countries who are the largest users of Halal, other than some other Islamic countries, to accept formal Halal certified products rather than the current informal processes," Piyush Goyal told reporters at a press conference focused on the Oman CEPA. Recognition of India's halal certification in Oman will reduce duplication of testing and certification, lower costs and improve market access for Indian exporters. "We are going to focus on all the countries...We're going to engage with all 55 countries on a mission mode wherever Halal certification is largely required," he said.

7 YEARS ON, RAJA SANSI BLAST ACCUSED GETS DEFAULT BAIL FROM HIGH COURT

Diary Times Desk : Nearly seven years after Raja Sansi grenade attack left almost 20 injured and three killed, the Punjab and Haryana High Court has ordered the release of an accused on default bail. The bench of Justice Gurvinder Singh Gill and Justice Ramesh Kumari held that the challan was not filed within 90 days, which expired in February 2019. As such, there was "no room to come to a conclusion other than" that the accused had acquired an indefeasible right to default bail. Allowing the appeal filed through counsel Vipul Jindal, the bench set aside the April 11, 2019 order rejecting default bail and directed the appellant's release. Appellant Avtar Singh, along with a co-accused had moved a joint application for default bail immediately after expiry of the statutory period. That plea, however, was dismissed on the premise that the time for investigation stood extended from 90 to 180 days. The high court observed that the very order granting extension was later set aside by Amritsar Additional Sessions Judge/Exclusive Court.

AJNALA POLICE STATION ATTACK SHOOK NATION'S CONSCIENCE, SAYS HC; TURNS DOWN MULTIPLE BAIL PLEAS

Diary Times Desk : Holding that the violent attack on the Ajnala police station shook the "conscience of the entire nation" and amounted to a direct challenge to the sovereignty and integrity of the State, the Punjab and Haryana High Court has turned down at least five bail pleas. In one of the bail pleas filed by Gurmeet Singh Gill, alias Gurmeet Singh Singh Bakkanwala, Justice Surya Partap Singh ruled that the case shocked the conscience of the entire nation. An unlawful mob – including the petitioner – under the influence of "one Amritpal Singh", took the law into their own hands by attacking the police station with an ill-intention to get released one of their associates from police custody instead of taking legal recourse. The Bench added that a careful perusal of record showed that the allegations against the petitioner were that he was a member of the mob armed with deadly weapons "which defied not only the directions issued by the public servants -- the police officers.

SANJAULI MOSQUE: HC DIRECTION PUTS DEMOLITION BACK ON TRACK

Diary Times Desk : Complying with High Court directions, the Sanjauli Mosque Committee and the Himachal Pradesh Waqf Board on Thursday resumed demolition of the unauthorised floors of the controversial mosque in Sanjauli. In a recent hearing, the Himachal Pradesh High Court ordered the committee and the Waqf Board to raze the top three floors, which had earlier been declared illegal by the Commissioner's Court of the Shimla Municipal Corporation. Initially, the committee demolished the top two floors of the five-storeyed structure, acting on the Commissioner's orders. The work was halted after the directive was challenged before the District Court. The District Court upheld the Commissioner's ruling and instructed complete demolition of the illegal construction. The Waqf Board then moved the High Court, which granted status-quo protection to the first two floors but directed that the remaining illegal floors be removed. The next hearing is scheduled for March 9. A Waqf Board office-bearer said the committee had already pulled down the top two floors and half of the third floor, but work stalled due to financial constraints. He added that the ongoing demolition is being undertaken with their own resources and would be completed soon.

The responsibility for organising the event has been entrusted to the Shimla Municipal Corporation (SMC), giving it a formal administrative framework and continuity. Welcoming the move, SMC Mayor Surinder Chauhan described the decision as a major boost for Shimla's tourism-driven economy. He said the winter holiday period is among the most significant for the town, as lakhs of visitors from across the country and abroad arrive to celebrate Christmas and usher in the New Year. Holding a structured cultural carnival during this time, he noted, adds value to the tourist experience while providing a fillip to local businesses, hoteliers.

HARYANA HOUSE PASSES RESOLUTION IN THANKING ORGANISERS FOR GURU TEG BAHADUR'S MARTYRDOM ANNIVERSARY EVENTS

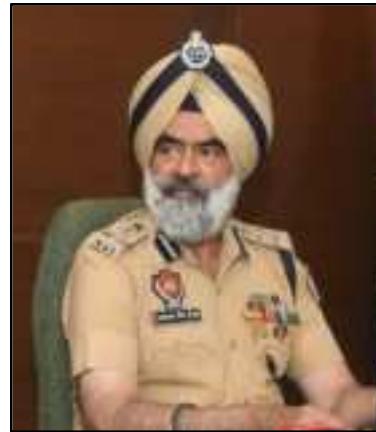

Diary Times Desk : Wearing a saffron turban and striking a clear note of Sikh outreach, Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini today led the Haryana Vidhan Sabha in unanimously adopting a resolution expressing gratitude to organisations and individuals who contributed to the statewide observance of the 350th martyrdom anniversary of Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur. On the opening day of the winter session, the House passed the resolution thanking the Haryana Sikh Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee (HSGMC), the Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur Shaheedi Diwas Organising Committee, public representatives, social service organisations and civil institutions for successfully organising commemorative programmes across Haryana. The House also expressed its gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who paid homage to the ninth Sikh Guru at the grand congregation held at Jyotisar, Kurukshetra, on November 25 and participated in the International Gita Mahotsav. Parliamentary Affairs Minister Mahipal Dhanda moved the resolution, after which members cutting across party lines recalled the sacrifices of the Sikh Gurus, with special reference to Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur. Several members described him as "Hind ki Chadar", stating that he laid down his life to protect faith, freedom of belief and human dignity, and that his teachings would continue to guide future generations.

DENSE FOG GRIPS PUNJAB, HARYANA; HOSHIARPUR SHIVERS AT 4.8°C

SC REFUSES TO STAY CBI PROBE INTO DA CASE AGAINST SUSPENDED PUNJAB DIG HARCHARAN SINGH BHULLAR

Diary Times Desk : The Supreme Court on Friday refused to entertain suspended Punjab Police DIG Harcharan Singh Bhullar's petition seeking a stay on the CBI probe into two FIRs lodged against him in a disproportionate assets case. A bench led by Chief Justice of India Surya Kant said the Punjab and Haryana High Court was seized of a similar petition filed by Bhullar. Bhullar has challenged the December 4 order of the high court which had denied interim relief of stay on the CBI proceedings and adjourned his plea for hearing in January. As senior counsel Vikram Chaudhary, representing Bhullar, sought a direction for deciding on interim relief, CJI Kant said, "It's better, we don't open our mouths. Don't invite harsh observations from us." Chaudhary submitted that the high court erred in adjourning the matter by a month without considering the prayer for interim relief. He said it was a case where the CBI has wrongly assumed jurisdiction in violation of the Delhi Special Police Establishment (DSPE) Act, as the state's consent for the CBI has already been withdrawn.

SC ISSUES NOTICE TO PUNJAB GOVT ON SAD LEADER BIKRAM SINGH MAJITHIA'S PLEA FOR BAIL

Diary Times Desk : The Supreme Court on Friday issued notice to the Punjab Vigilance Bureau on Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) leader Bikram Singh Majithia's petition challenging the Punjab and Haryana High Court's order denying him bail in a disproportionate assets case. A Bench led by Justice Vikram Nath, however, refused to consider his prayer for interim bail. Asking the Punjab Vigilance Bureau to respond to Majithia's petition challenging the December 4 order of the high court, it posted the matter for hearing on January 19. The high court had dismissed his bail plea, saying the possibility of him influencing the investigation could not be ruled out. Directing the Bureau to complete its probe in three months, the high court had said Majithia could seek bail after that. The Punjab Vigilance Bureau arrested Majithia on June 25 in the disproportionate assets (DA) case that allegedly involved accumulation of Rs 540 crore of wealth. The DA case FIR against Majithia stemmed from an ongoing probe into a 2021 drug case by a Punjab Police SIT. The FIR was registered on the basis of a June 2025 report of the SIT. Majithia is lodged in the New Nabha Jail, Patiala. A Mohali court had rejected his bail plea in August. The Vigilance Bureau filed an over 40,000-page chargesheet.

PUNJAB GOVERNMENT TO CONVENE SPECIAL SESSION OVER REPLACEMENT OF MGNREGA WITH VB G RAM G

Diary Times Desk : As voices of Opposition against the replacement of MGNREGA with VB G RAM G go shriller, the Aam Aadmi Party government in Punjab has announced that it would convene a special session of Punjab Vidhan Sabha on this issue. Announcing the decision to convene the session in the second week of January, Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann said, "The BJP government at the Centre is trying to hit the livelihoods of poor by replacing the 'MGNREGA' scheme. A special session of the Punjab Vidhan Sabha will be called in the second week of January to raise the voice of Punjabis against this oppression." The Special Session of Vidhan Sabha, held on November 24, was prorogued by the Governor on December 17. Sources in the government have told The Tribune that the decision to convene the special Vidhan Sabha session was taken at a meeting of party top leaders, including AAP national convener Arvind Kejriwal, on Thursday evening. He is presently on a three-day tour of the state. The Viksit Bharat Gaurantee for Rozgar and Ajeevika Mission (Gramin) Bill was introduced in the Parliament and was passed amidst protests by the Opposition party MPs. Since the new funding model of the scheme will also require states to chip in, its implementation will be a problem for cash-strapped states like Punjab.

Drones have already revolutionized warfare.

They're about to do it again

"Invention, it must be humbly admitted, does not consist in creating out of void, but out of chaos." Mary Shelley, "Frankenstein," 1818.

"War is chaos. It always has been. But technology makes it worse. It changes the fear." Pierce Brown, "Golden Son," 2015.

Drones – and artificial intelligence – have reshaped the modern battlefield and are about to do so again. Nowhere is that more evident than in Ukraine.

Invaded by Russia in 2022, outmanned and outgunned by one of the world's strongest militaries, Kyiv quickly proved that drones – in the air, on the ground, and at sea – could hold off a Russian victory that many expected within weeks, if not days.

Brad Lendon
But drones came to the forefront of warfare relatively recently, some analysts say, with the 2020 conflict between Armenia and Azerbaijan in Nagorno-Karabakh a major turning point.

Cheaper and easier to build than manned vehicles, and in some cases more effective, drones are a military planner's dream – and greatly reduce the risk of a pilot or operator being killed in action.

Much like the Kalashnikov rifle in the previous century, mass adoption of drones became an asymmetric weapon of choice for forces facing long odds in global warfare, such as the Hamas militant group in Gaza; anti-junta rebels in Myanmar's civil war; and the militaries of poorer nations, including many in Africa.

But the Goliaths have caught up, while – according to one report – drug cartels the world over are innovating, improving and adapting drones to fight the narco-wars of the future.

"It's like gunpowder. That's how insanely it's changed the war," Patrick Shepherd, a former US Army officer, said of the advent of cheap aerial drones.

It's invention from chaos, as myriad regional conflagrations coincide with an era of unparalleled technological advance. It's probably just the beginning.

The evolution of drones

Drones aren't a recent invention. Britain and the United States experimented with radio-controlled unmanned aircraft during World War I, according to the Imperial War Museum in London.

"We were flying hundreds of drones over North Vietnam during the war," said Russ Lee, a curator in the aeronautics department at the National Air and Space Museum in Washington. During that Southeast Asian conflict in 1960s and early '70s, US forces began using drones for many of the same missions we see today – reconnaissance or carrying munitions, or for use as decoys and psy-ops platforms, according to the Imperial War Museum.

The US began widespread use of drones during Operation Desert Storm, the response to Iraq's 1990 invasion of Kuwait. The Tomahawk land-attack missile – a cruise missile but also an unmanned aerial vehicle as it can change course and target in-flight – saw its first combat in 1991.

Australia's About To Find Out

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU KICK MILLIONS OF TEENS OFF SOCIAL MEDIA?

Hilary Whiteman

Yoti advises social media platforms including Meta about their age verification options. The group now has 12 methods, including phone, email, and ID checks, and the list is growing. Age-restricted sites give users a choice about which method they'd prefer.

It's August, and a show of hands in an auditorium filled with 300 students at All Saints Anglican School in Australia shows that few of the Grade 9 and 10 students sitting in plush red seats had heard of the country's impending ban on social media, much less how to prepare for it.

"It's very important to save photos," Kirra Pendergast, founder of cyber safety organization Ctrl+Shift, lectures from the stage. "You need to prepare."

An alarmed murmur spreads around the room as the students realize what's about to be lost. "Can you get your account back when you turn 16?" one girl asks. "What if I lie about my age?" asks another.

Less than two weeks before the ban, we have more answers.

From December 10, sites

"People have basically thought, what is it we do offline? Do we let young people into strip clubs, into bars, buying alcohol, buying cigarettes? What are the norms that we have and what are the norms that we want to have online?"

that meet the Australian government's definition of an "age-restricted social media platform" will need to show that they're doing enough to eject or block children under 16 or face fines of up to 49.5 million Australian dollars ($32 million).

The list includes Snapchat, Facebook, Instagram, Kick, Reddit, Threads, TikTok, Twitch, X, and YouTube. The government says it's protecting children from potentially harmful content; the sites say they're already building safer systems.

Meta says it'll start deactivating accounts and blocking new Facebook, Instagram and Threads accounts from December 4. Under-16s are being encouraged to download their content.

Snap says users can deactivate their accounts for up to three years, or until they turn 16. Snap streaks – the daily swapping of photos of ordinary life, vacations, walls, foreheads, anything to signal an online presence – will end.

There's another sting in the ban, too, coming at the end of the Australian school year before the summer break in the southern hemisphere. For eight weeks, there'll be no school, no teachers – and no scrolling.

For millions of children, it could be the first school break they spend in years without the company of time-killing social media algorithms, or an easy way to contact their friends. Even for parents who support the ban, it could be a very long summer.

Other countries around the world are taking notes as Australia explores new territory that some say mirrors safety evolutions of years past – the dawning realization that maybe cars need safety belts, and that perhaps cigarettes should come with some kind of health warning.

As with any seismic step in social policy, there are cheer squads, naysayers and those who don't care what Australia – a country known to love rules – is doing to its children.

A Blue Schoolbag In A Mass Grave

SRI LANKA'S BLOODY PAST IS RE-EMERGING FROM THE SOIL

Tamil, who have lived in the north and east of Sri Lanka for thousands of years, are primarily followers of Hinduism, with a significant Christian minority population, but the commission determined that the fact the bodies were buried naked rules out customary Hindu burials. "There is a reasonable likelihood that the burials were unlawful and pursuant to extrajudicial killings," it said.

Two human skeletons lie entangled on the rough earth – the arms of one wrapped around the other's head, as though protecting them from danger. Simply known as numbers 177 and 178, their identities remain a mystery.

They are among 240 human skeletal remains, including children and babies, uncovered at this mass gravesite in Chemmani in Sri Lanka's northern Jaffna district.

"This place is a crime scene no entry," reads a sign at the entrance.

Numbered white cards placed alongside the bones mark how many skeletons have been found since digging began in May of this year, reviving decades-old allegations of wartime atrocities and cover-ups.

In the heartland of the country's ethnic Tamil minority, a bloody and brutal history is re-emerging from the soil. But it is difficult to bury the past entirely.

From 1983 to 2009, the South Asian island nation of 21 million endured a brutal civil war between the Sri Lankan army and the separatist militant group the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE). More commonly known as The Tamil Tigers, the group was listed as a terrorist organization by many countries including the United States.

The war was fought along ethnic lines, pitting the majority Buddhist Sinhalese state against the predominantly Hindu ethnic minority rebels fighting for a separate Tamil homeland in the north and east after years of anti-Tamil violence. The Tigers were ultimately defeated.

Atrocities were committed by both sides, according to the United Nations, which estimates up to 100,000 people were killed in the conflict, with thousands of others forcibly disappeared.

Sixteen years after the war ended, families of the victims and missing are still fighting for justice and accountability.

"One day the truth will come," said V S Niranjan, a lawyer representing relatives of people who went missing in Jaffna.

A blue school bag

Just a stone's throw from a main road, the Chemmani gravesite is one of more than 20 mass graves identified in Sri Lanka.

Many of the gravesites that pockmark the north and east of the country are believed to contain the victims of atrocities committed during the civil war. Caught between warring rebel fighters and the Sri Lankan army, the Tamil community in these regions bore the brunt of the violence.

The military occupied Jaffna from 1995 until the end of the war. Chemmani first gained international attention in 1998 when Sri Lankan soldier former Lance Cpl. Somaratne Rajapakse, who was on trial for the rape and murder of schoolgirl Krishanthi Kumaraswamy, confessed that hundreds of Tamils had been buried there after the Sri Lankan army retook Jaffna.

For decades, the mass grave remained hidden until construction workers clearing land in the grounds of a Hindu cemetery in February unearthed human skeletal remains.

Their discovery prompted a court-ordered forensic excavation of the site in May and June, which initially uncovered 19 skeletons. Since then, the bones of hundreds more people have been found.

A baby's milk bottle, a blue schoolbag, bangles and cloth fragments have been uncovered alongside the bones.

More than 90% of the remains had no form of clothing. The bodies were buried in a disordered way, heaped together in shallow graves of 1.5-2 feet, according to the Human Rights Commission of Sri Lanka, an independent national body that investigates violations of fundamental rights.

FIVE REASONS ROLEX COLLECTORS LOVE THE DAYTONA

Diary Times Desk : Rolex and Daytona are two evocative names that came together decades before the first Daytona Reference 6239 began production in 1963. In the early 1930s, most watches were tested on the wrists of athletes and adventurers, and not exclusively in hi-tech laboratories as they are today. Rolex founder Hans Wilsdorf, however, recognised the advertising potential of motorsport, and signed a contract with the racing driver Sir Malcolm Campbell.

On 7 March 1935, Campbell set one of his final records on the sand track at Daytona Beach, increasing the world land speed record to 445.472 kmh. (He would later improve this record one more time, but not at Daytona.) Years later, in 1991, Rolex became the main sponsor of the 24 Hours of Daytona race at Daytona International Speedway.

A product gains credibility if it is worn by a figure celebrated for being authentic – particularly if there is no payment involved. When the actress Joanne Woodward gave her husband, Paul Newman, a Rolex Daytona as a lucky charm in 1968, it marked the beginning of the actor's enduring affection for the brand. At that time, Newman was not under contract to Rolex as an ambassador, yet he and the Daytona formed an unbeatable promotional duo.

The atypical, and much rarer, dial now associated with the 'Paul Newman' differs in small ways from the traditional Daytona dial: it has Art Deco numerals, hash marks ending in a square at the end, and a small notch between the outer minute track and the centre of the dial. These little differences mark the 'Paul Newman' out as one of the most desirable vintage watches in the world.

One thing has been and remains consistent for all the movements used by Rolex in its chronographs: outstanding reliability. Technically, however, the movements of the first Daytona watches lagged behind other chronograph movements of the time. It was not until 1988 – more than 20 years after the launch of the Daytona – that Rolex decided to improve the highly successful 'Zenith' automatic calibre, El Primero, making it one of the best automatic chronographs of its time. The Rolex Daytona's simple yet perfectly balanced design is virtually unmatched in any other chronograph model. Strong contrasting colours, from the main to the subsidiary dials, in a superbly composed gold or steel case, make this watch irresistible. Jewelled and coloured-dial Daytonas show that it is possible to add gemstones to a sports watch. Today, Daytonas are available in a dazzling range of materials and designs – such as the turquoise dial ref. 116509 or the blue sodalite hardstone dial ref. 116519 – while remaining true to their sporting origins.

ART AND OBJECTS COLLECTED BY GENERATIONS OF THE STERN FAMILY: 'THIS COLLECTION HAS REMAINED UNKNOWN – ITS APPEARANCE ON THE MARKET NOW IS INCREDIBLY EXCITING'

Diary Times Desk :

A family of distinguished bankers and entrepreneurs since the 17th century, the Sterns are also renowned collectors, patrons and philanthropists. For generations, they have collected art at the very highest level, served on the boards of cultural, educational and scientific institutions across Europe, and donated important works to prestigious museums, including the Louvre.

'The Stern family has now chosen to write a new chapter in its history by offering at auction the works assembled by three generations of passionate collectors before them,' writes the French journalist Pierre Assouline in the introduction to the sale catalogue.

Assembled over the course of more than a century, the collection offered for sale reflects the connoisseurship and eclectic interests of Edgard Salomon Stern (1854-1937), head of the French branch of the family, his daughter-in-law Alice Stern (1906-2008), and their descendants.

On 11 December 2025, Christie's in Paris will present Les Stern: une famille de collectionneurs, alongside an online sale until 12 December, offering more than 350 lots ranging from Old Master paintings to furniture, sculpture and works of decorative art, including enamels, silver, bronzes and glass. The sales include works by some of the most celebrated European artists and makers of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries, from Boucher, Fragonard, Robert and Tissot to the ébéniste Roger Vandercruse called Lacroix and glass designer Emile Gallé. Many pieces also boast prestigious provenances. There are works once owned by the renowned Parisian couturier Jacques Doucet, Sir Richard Wallace, David David-Weill, the Dukes of Hamilton in Scotland and the Comte d'Artois.

'The dazzling and varied works of art demonstrate the enthusiasms and personal tastes of the different collectors within the family,' says Charles Cator, deputy chairman of Christie's International. 'What is even more remarkable about this collection, though, is that it has remained unknown, so its appearance on the market now is incredibly exciting.' In the 18th century, the Sterns were among the most powerful merchants in Frankfurt. By the mid-19th century, much like the Rothschilds, with whom they established close and lasting ties, they had founded successful banking businesses across Europe, many of which gave rise to major institutions that still exist today.

BARCELONA HEAVYWEIGHT A SERIOUS DOUBT FOR SEVILLA CLASH DUE TO CALF STRAIN

Diary Times Desk : FC Barcelona will bring down the curtains on the first half of the 2025/26 season this weekend with an away La Liga game against Villarreal.

Sitting atop the La Liga standings, Hansi Flick & co. will hope to go into the mid-season break on a high by securing all three points against the Yellow Submarine, who are third in the table.

However, leading up to the game, the Blaugrana have been handed a fresh fitness concern with key midfielder Pedri. Indeed, according to AS, Pedri is a serious doubt for the game between Barcelona and Villarreal due to a calf muscle strain.

As confirmed earlier today, the 23-year-old Spanish international did not train with the group and worked by himself inside the facilities due to the overload in the soleus muscle of his left leg.

BARCELONA PRESIDENT TOLD TO BREAK RELATIONS WITH REAL MADRID: 'THE BEST TEAM IN HISTORY IS BEING QUESTIONED'

Diary Times Desk : Barcelona and Real Madrid are experiencing a tense relationship after multiple clashes, open statements and accusations in public being drawn about each other.

Los Blancos bear a brunt of the responsibility for the same, especially with the president Florentino Perez openly lashing out at Barcelona and accusing them openly of manipulating referees and results through the Negreira scandal.

Barcelona, understandably, have not remained silent and have gone on the offensive as well, with Joan Laporta openly coming out to hit back at Perez during the Christmas dinner last night. Speaking on El Partidazo de COPE in a recent interview (h/t SPORT), former Barcelona presidential candidate and pre-candidate for the upcoming election Victor Font gave his views on the situation between Barcelona and Real Madrid.

He began by agreeing with Joan Laporta for a change and admitting that Real Madrid are blatantly in the wrong. "I agree one hundred per cent with what the president of Barça has said, and I even go much further," he said.

BARCELONA WELL-POSITIONED TO SIGN 15-YEAR-OLD ENGLISH ATTACKING PRODIGY

Diary Times Desk : FC Barcelona are not only working to improve the first team, but also to strengthen their youth system with promising players to complete their development at La Masia.

As recently reported, the Blaugrana are working to sign Hamza Abdelkarim, a 17-year-old striker from Egyptian giants Al Ahly.

On top of that, Barça have also held talks to sign Jesse Bisiwu, a teenage wonderkid from Belgian outfit Club Brugge.

Now, it appears that another exciting young talent, this time from England, has caught the attention of the La Liga champions. Indeed, according to Mundo Deportivo, Barcelona are making moves for Ajay Tavares, an English winger from Norwich City's youth team, who will turn 16 on 28 December.

A powerful left winger who can also play as a centre-forward, Tavares possesses an European passport, which would allow him to leave the United Kingdom before the age of 18.

BARCELONA'S POSSIBLE OPPONENTS IN THE COPA DEL REY ROUND OF 16

Diary Times Desk : FC Barcelona made it through to the Round of 16 of the Copa del Rey after defeating CD Guadalajara in their first game of the competition earlier this week.

Hansi Flick's side secured a hard-fought 2-0 victory away at Estadio Pedro Escartín, with goals coming from Andreas Christensen and Marcus Rashford. Barcelona are the current holders of the Copa del Rey trophy, having defeated arch-rivals Real Madrid in an epic finale last season thanks to a Jules Koundé extra-time goal. And, the aim for the Blaugrana will be to go all the way once again in the cup competition, with the first hurdle now crossed. Apart from Barcelona, the following teams also qualified for the Round of 16 on Tuesday: Real Sociedad, who beat Eldense 1-2; Deportivo La Coruna, who defeated Mallorca 1-0; Elche, who won 0-1 vs Eibar; and Valencia, who overcame Sporting Gijón with a 0-2 win. On Wednesday night, the following teams made it through: Cultural Leonesa, who beat Levante 1-0; Racing Santander, who won 2-1 vs Villarreal; Atlético Madrid, who won 2-3 against Atlético Baleares; Osasuna, who beat Huesca 2-4.

VILLARREAL MANAGER HAILS BARCELONA WONDERKID – 'HAS THE MATURITY OF A 30-YEAR-OLD'

Diary Times Desk : FC Barcelona will aim to retain their lead at the top of the league table as they take on Villarreal on Sunday, in what will be the final match of the year for the Blaugrana.

This is a must-win game for Barcelona, considering that a defeat will not only help Real Madrid but will also allow Villarreal, who are in third place, to close the gap at the top.

Speaking ahead of this crucial match, Villarreal coach Marcelino talked about his team's form while offering an update on injuries. With 35 points collected from 15 matches, Villarreal are punching above their weight this season, and if they can win their two extra matches at hand, they could catapult Real Madrid and become second.

But while coach Marcelino is proud of the team's success this season, he admitted that competing with teams like Barcelona and Real Madrid will be difficult.

The coach said that a club like Villarreal can "be close" to Real Madrid or Barcelona, but clarified that it's "difficult to challenge them for the league title."

HANSI FLICK'S STANCE AS BARCELONA EAGER TO EXTEND HIS CONTRACT UNTIL 2028 – REPORT

Diary Times Desk : Hansi Flick has a contract with Barcelona until June 2027, but he could remain on the Barcelona bench for longer.

The German coach renewed his deal in May for one additional season, but the club are interested in extending it by a further year, as reported earlier this week.

Last weekend, a meeting took place between Flick's agent, Pini Zahavi, and club president Joan Laporta, which was later joined by sporting director Deco in Barcelona. At that meeting, the club's senior officials conveyed to the coach's agent their interest in extending his contract by one more year, until June 2028. According to Mundo Deportivo, despite his continuity being secured until 30 June 2027, Barcelona want Flick to begin next season with an extra year on his contract to have greater authority within the dressing room. It is also a way of showing the full confidence that the club have in him. Flick, for his part, is very happy at Barcelona and enjoys a strong relationship with both Laporta and Deco.
