PM MODI COMPLETES 12 YEARS IN OFFICE, NITIN NABIN LAUDS JOURNEY OF GOOD GOVERNANCE

Diary Times Desk : Prime Minister Narendra Modi today completed 12 years in office with the ruling BJP lauding his tenure as "glorious". BJP national president Nitin Nabin led the greetings for the Prime Minister today and said this era, which began on 26 May, 2014, was not merely a change in governance but a historic moment of the nation's reclaimed self-confidence and cultural renaissance under Narendra Modi.

"With the foundational mantra of 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas, Sabka Vishwas and Sabka Prayas' and the supreme principle of 'Antyodaya' as its guiding light, the government has transformed policies from mere documents into instruments of change in the lives of every individual," said nabin.

PETROL, DIESEL PRICES HIKED FOR FOURTH TIME IN 11 DAYS, FINANCE MINISTER SITHARAMAN DEFENDS MODI'S AUSTERITY PUSH

Diary Times Desk : Petrol prices were raised by Rs 2.61 a litre and diesel by Rs 2.71 on Monday, the fourth increase in less than two weeks, even as Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman defended Prime Minister Narendra Modi's austerity call amid the West Asia crisis, stressing the need to focus on the "3Fs" -- fuel, fertiliser and forex. The latest fuel price increase has taken the cumulative hikes since May 15 to nearly Rs 7.5 per litre. Sitharaman said the crisis in West Asia was not merely a geopolitical issue, but one that would directly lead to higher fuel costs for common people. She, however, maintained that the domestic economy remained positive and resilient despite external challenges. In Delhi, petrol prices rose to Rs 102.12 per litre from Rs 99.51, while diesel climbed to Rs 95.20 from Rs 92.49. Fuel prices have now reached their highest levels since May 2022 after remaining largely frozen for more than two years, barring a Rs 2-per-litre cut in March 2024 ahead of the General Election. Global crude oil prices have surged by more than 50 per cent since late February following US-Israeli strikes on Iran and disruptions to shipping through the Strait of Hormuz, a key global oil transit route. The four rounds of petrol and diesel price hikes, totalling about Rs 7.5 per litre, have reduced the losses being incurred by state-owned oil firms from selling fuel below cost to nearly Rs 600 crore per day, Sujata Sharma, Joint Secretary in the Ministry.

ONION FARMERS STAGE PROTEST AGAINST PROCUREMENT PRICES IN NASHIK, BLOCK HIGHWAY

Diary Times Desk : Several onion farmers, led by opposition Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) leaders, on Tuesday staged a protest against the government's procurement prices, blocking the busy Mumbai-Agra National Highway in Nashik district. Police intervened and detained protesters after the 'Kanda Utpadak Shetkari Kranti Mahamorch' disrupted traffic in Chandwad town, where some agitators reportedly attempted to deflate the tyres of vehicles stranded on the highway. Opposition leader, including NCP(SP) MLA Rohit Pawar, Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Ambadas Danve, and Congress state president Harshvardhan Sapkal, led the rally on a bullock cart before being detained by the police. During the agitation, Pawar said, "The government has declared a Rs 1,580 per quintal price for onions. Farmers are unhappy with this. They should get Rs 24 per kg price for onions. The government is afraid of our agitation. The CM, deputy CM and other ministers will go to Delhi on Wednesday. We will have to wait and see what happens." Interestingly, Melody toffees were distributed to agitating farmers during the protest.

CENTRE FORMS PANEL ON 'UNNATURAL DEMOGRAPHIC CHANGE' TO TACKLE INFILTRATION

Diary Times Desk : Amid growing concern over rising infiltration and "unnatural changes" in border areas, the Centre on Tuesday announced the setting up of a high-level committee on demographic change, which will be led by Justice (Retd) Prakash Prabhakar Nawalkar. This committee will conduct a comprehensive assessment of demographic changes occurring across India due to illegal migration and other abnormal causes. It will analyse the patterns of abnormal population shift at the level of religious and social communities, and present well-planned, time-bound solutions."

5 LIONS DEAD IN GUJARAT'S GIR; 2 CUBS SUCCUMB TO SUSPECTED VIRAL INFECTION, NO OUTBREAK: GOVT

Diary Times Desk : Two lion cubs in Gujarat's Gir forest region have died due to suspected Babesia virus infection, while three other big cats succumbed to natural causes and infighting in separate incidents, state Forest Minister Arjun Modhwadia said on Tuesday.

Modhwadia, however, ruled out the possibility of any major epidemic or disease outbreak in Gir forest, the last abode of Asiatic lions.

"In view of reports claiming lions died from the Babesia virus, only two suspected lion deaths have been attributed to this viral infection. The remaining (three) lion deaths have occurred either due to infighting or other reasons," the minister said in a statement. Babesia virus spreads through ticks and can cause weakness, coughing and nasal discharge in affected animals, he informed. "Forest department officials and teams of veterinary doctors are actively working to stop the spread of the Babesia virus," Modhwadia said.

 DECLARATION: ASHWINI VAISHNAW

Diary Times Desk : Union IT Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw on Saturday said 86 countries and two international organisations signed India's AI Impact Summit declaration, even as he hit out at the Congress for "hurting the country's image" on a global stage. "At the AI summit, various technical solutions were presented, and some of the startups performed very well...There is a huge enthusiasm even on the fifth day of the summit, especially among the youth," he told the media at the summit venue. "A total of 86 countries and two international organisations have signed the declaration of the AI Impact Summit. The world has appreciated the human-centric AI vision of Prime Minister Narendra Modi. They also appreciated the country's effort in democratising artificial intelligence (AI) resources, where the thrust is on both economic growth and social good," he said. The Minister also condemned the Congress for "hurting the country's image" on a global stage. "When I interacted with many exhibitors, they said that the way the youth Congress workers created a ruckus at the summit was shameful. This shows that they (Congress) are stooping so low in politics. The Congress party is anti-youth and does not want any innovations," he added.

 'INDIAN YOUTH COCKROACHES' CAMPAIGN

Diary Times Desk : Amid the growing popularity of the online satirical outfit, the Cockroach Janta Party (CJP), the Indian Youth Congress (IYC) on Tuesday launched the 'Indian Youth Cockroaches' campaign, describing it as a nationwide youth resistance movement against unemployment, paper leaks and corruption under the BJP-led Centre. The campaign, launched under the leadership of IYC in-charge Manish Sharma and the wing's president Uday Bhanu Chib, seeks to reclaim the term 'cockroaches', which the organisation said had been used to mock protesting youth. The term 'cockroaches' has been gaining widespread attention in the Indian political discourse following the emergence of the Cockroach Janta Party, a digital-only satirical campaign. CJP was founded by 30-year-old Abhijit Dipke after Chief Justice of India Surya Kant compared unemployed youth who drift into activism and journalism to "cockroaches" and "parasites". Chib said the movement would continue both online and on the ground through protests and mobilisation by the Youth Congress workers across the country.

 DEFAMATION CASE; SAPKAL REPLACES SHIVRAJ
 PATIL AS HIS SURETY

Diary Times Desk : Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Saturday appeared before a court at Bhiwandi in the district in a defamation case filed by an RSS activist, and presented his party's Maharashtra unit chief Harshwardhan Sapkal as his new 'surety' or guarantor for bail. As he travelled to Bhiwandi by road after landing in Mumbai, BJP workers showed him black flags at Mulund toll plaza and shouted slogans, accusing the Congress of maligning India's image through the Youth Congress's protest at the AI summit in Delhi. Gandhi, accompanied by Sapkal, party MP Varsha Gaikwad and his lawyers Narayan Iyer and Kushal Mor, reached the magistrate's court around 10:30 am. The court had asked the Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha to appear in person and provide a new surety following the death of previous guarantor, former Union Minister Shivraj Patil Chakurkar, in December last year. Chakurkar had stood surety when the court granted bail to the Congress leader in 2016 upon his appearance. Sapkal on Saturday filed an application before the magistrate requesting permission to stand as surety for the accused. After the verification of his affidavits and other documents, the court granted the plea.

RIGHT TO CLEAN ENVIRONMENT: SC ISSUES
 PAN-INDIA DIRECTIONS FOR COMPLIANCE WITH SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT RULES

Diary Times Desk : As massive dump sites active in metropolitan areas adversely impacted the right to a clean and healthy environment of citizens, the Supreme Court has issued pan-India directions for implementation of the Solid Waste Management (SWM) Rules, 2026, which will come into effect from April 1. Taking note of uneven compliance with the SWM Rules, a Bench led by Justice Pankaj Mithal said that the present generation cannot afford to wait for further legislative refinement while existing implementation gaps persist. "The neglect of municipal solid waste will affect health as much as the economy," said the Bench - which also included Justice SVN Bhatti. "It is now or never. Expecting high results without fundamental spadework of source segregation and infrastructure would be unreasonable. Every stakeholder is duty-bound to ensure the realisation of a waste-free India," it said. "A challenge of this magnitude requires a synchronized effort between the appointed officers of the local bodies and elected representatives, including the respective mayors.

Officials said the Bangladesh High Commission in New Delhi and its assistant missions have begun issuing all categories of visas – including tourist and medical – ending a freeze imposed in December following protests and security concerns around diplomatic premises. The move comes days after the swearing-in of Bangladesh's new Prime Minister Tarique Rahman, widely seen as signalling a reset in ties between New Delhi and Dhaka. Diplomatic sources said both sides have begun quiet engagement to restore normal people-to-people travel, business visits and medical movement – sectors that had been severely affected by the suspension. The services had been halted on December 22 last year after violence, threats to diplomatic facilities and attacks on missions during political turmoil in Bangladesh. With the political transition in Dhaka now complete, officials expect a thaw in ties. Prime Minister Narendra Modi had earlier.

TN POLLS: DMK FORMS SEAT-SHARING PANEL UNDER T R BAALU FOR TALKS WITH ALLIES

Diary Times Desk : The ruling M. K. Stalin-led Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam (DMK) has formed a seven-member seat-sharing committee under party's senior leader T R Baalu to hold parleys with its allies, days after it sealed a poll pact with the DMDK. The swift move to rope in the DMDK rendered a blow to its rival AIADMK, which has been attempting to woo the Vijayakanth-founded party to the NDA to collectively take on the DMK in the upcoming Assembly election. DMK said the party was likely to commence seat-sharing negotiations with its allies from February 22. In addition to accommodating the DMDK, the party is likely to allocate more seats to the Congress for this poll. Ruling out any scope for a coalition government in Tamil Nadu, MDMK chief Vaiko, an ally of the DMK, said, the Dravidian major would return to power with an absolute majority of its own. "I am fully confident that DMK president and Chief Minister M K Stalin will form the government again by winning."

The accident happened at a level crossing during the morning rush hour near the town of Buggenhout, about 30 kilometers (20 miles) northwest of the capital, Brussels.

Details about how it unfolded were not immediately clear. Police said "several people" were hurt in the accident, but that they are unable to provide further details.

Belgian private broadcaster VTM said four people were killed, but police would not confirm whether there were any deaths "out of respect for the families of those implicated." VTM said the barriers at the level crossing were closed but that the bus appeared to try to cross anyway and was hit by the train. Seven schoolchildren were aboard the minibus, with a driver and an escort.

An Associated Press reporter at the scene said severely damaged bus lay toppled on its side. Forensic experts in protective white suits and wearing gloves were taking photos of the scene. A white pop-up tent was erected nearby. The train was relatively unscathed.

In a social media post, Belgian Interior Minister Bernard Quintin expressed "great sadness" over "the tragic accident in Buggenhout, where a school bus was struck by a train. "My thoughts go out to the victims and their loved ones," he added.

Over the years, it has grown into India's premier forum on geopolitics and geo-economics, drawing participation from ministers, former heads of state, diplomats, military leaders, industry executives and scholars from across the world. Diary Times Desk : Air India is working on elevating the experience for passengers and tapping its rich heritage, with the full-service carrier opening its Maharaja Lounge at San Francisco airport, a key city for the airline's North American market.

The airline operates around 65 weekly flights between North America and India. The lounge has been conceptualised by global hospitality design firm Hirsch Bedner Associates (HBA) and is the second in a series of signature lounges envisioned by Air India. In February, the carrier inaugurated the first signature Maharaja Lounge at the Delhi airport.

EARTHQUAKE OF MAGNITUDE 3.8 STRIKES MYANMAR

Diary Times Desk : An earthquake of magnitude 3.8 struck Myanmar on Saturday, a statement by the National Center for Seismology (NCS) said. The earthquake occurred at a depth of 70km. In a post on X, the NCS said, "EQ of M: 3.8, On: 21/02/2026 17:01:33 IST, Lat: 20.42 N, Long: 94.77 E, Depth: 70 Km, Location: Myanmar." Shallow earthquakes are generally more dangerous than deep earthquakes. This is because the seismic waves from shallow earthquakes have a shorter distance to travel to the surface, resulting in stronger ground shaking and potentially more damage to structures and greater casualties. Myanmar is vulnerable to hazards from moderate and large magnitude earthquakes and tsunamis along its long coastline. Myanmar is wedged between four tectonic plates (the Indian, Eurasian, Sunda, and Burma plates) that interact in active geological processes.

1.75 LAKH INDIANS EMBARK ON HAJ AS PILGRIMAGE BEGINS

Diary Times Desk : The annual five-day Haj pilgrimage began on Monday amid regional tensions in West Asia, as more than 1.6 million Muslims from around the world commenced their journey from the holy city of Mecca to the tent city of Mina in Saudi Arabia. Pilgrims will spend the night there before moving to the plains of Arafat at dawn on Tuesday for the main ritual of Haj prayers. Around 1.75 lakh pilgrims from India are participating in this year's pilgrimage. The faithful have been arriving in Saudi Arabia for the Haj against the backdrop of a fragile ceasefire in the Iran war and broader regional tensions and uncertainty. On the first day, many pilgrims in Mecca converge at a vast tent camp in the nearby desert. Prior to that, they circle the cube-shaped Kaaba at the Grand Mosque in sweltering temperatures. For pilgrims, Haj is a deeply moving spiritual experience and an opportunity to seek forgiveness from God and the remission of past sins. In India, home to a large Muslim minority, pilgrimage preparations have largely proceeded as normal. However, high fuel prices have pushed up travel costs for pilgrims.

Diary Times Desk : The World Uyghur Congress (WUC) has released its weekly brief, highlighting a series of international developments that it says reflect both the intensifying repression of Uyghurs and growing global scrutiny of China's policies. Alarm has also spread in Germany following reports that surveillance systems manufactured by Hikvision and Dahua Technology are widely deployed in airports, railway stations and public institutions. The WUC warned that the presence of such technology, linked by activists to monitoring practices in East Turkistan, could expose vulnerabilities and erode public trust. The group has sought clarification from German authorities and initiated legal proceedings in Spain and France against the manufacturers. Meanwhile, the International Labour Organization (ILO) Committee of Experts reviewed China's adherence to conventions prohibiting forced labour. Citing trade union submissions, the committee noted allegations that millions of Uyghurs and Tibetans were transferred under labour programmes in 2024.

This recommendation was reaffirmed in the WHO Tetanus Vaccine Position Paper (2017) and through deliberations of the Strategic Advisory Group of Experts (SAGE) in 2002 and 2016. Terming the launch a major step in safeguarding the nation's health, Nadda said the rollout of a domestically manufactured vaccine marks a key achievement in attaining self-sufficiency in vaccine and drug manufacturing in India.

A daring robbery at an oil factory in Jaito on February 7 has triggered a police investigation and search operation against the accused after they had stolen Rs 15.50 lakh in cash, a licensed revolver, and important documents. SSP Dr. Pragya Jain said the gang employed highly sophisticated and deceptive tactics to mislead the police: The female members of the gang would conduct "recce" (spying) during the day at factories, shops, and houses to identify targets.

PUNJAB EX-MINISTER LALJIT BHULLAR, FATHER BOOKED AFTER WAREHOUSING OFFICIAL'S DEATH SPARKS ROW

Diary Times Desk : The Amritsar police on Sunday registered a case against former Punjab transport minister Laljit Bhullar after Punjab Warehousing Corporation district manager Gagandeep Randhawa committed suicide on Saturday. Besides Bhullar, his father Sukhdev Bhullar and personal assistant Dilbagh Singh have also been booked. They have been booked under Sections 108 (abetment to suicide), 351 (criminal intimidation) and 3(5) (common intention) of the BNS. In her complaint, Upinder Kaur, wife of the deceased, alleged that the former minister, his father and his PA allegedly assaulted her husband and even struck him with a pistol. She alleged that they humiliated him to the extent that he was forced to take his life.

PRO-PEOPLE BUDGET WILL BE PRESENTED ON MARCH 8: PUNJAB CM BHAGWANT MANN

Diary Times Desk : Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann on Saturday said his government will present its fifth Budget on March 8, reiterating that it will once again be a "pro-people budget" focused on the welfare of every section of society. Mann made this announcement during his visit to Ahmedabad. The Punjab Chief Minister, along with AAP national convener Arvind Kejriwal, was on a visit to Gujarat on Saturday. Mann said the government has consistently taken pro-people and citizen-centric decisions that have transformed the state's trajectory. He further said that his government will present the Budget on March 8. The Punjab Government will present its fifth Budget in the month of March and we will continue our tradition of presenting a pro-people budget aimed at the welfare of all. "Our sole aim is to ensure the well-being of the common man, and we are making strenuous efforts to achieve this. The forthcoming Budget will again ensure immense benefit to the people of Punjab," said Mann. On the issue of financial rights of states, Mann said that Punjab's legitimate share in the rural development fund has been "undemocratically stalled" by the Centre, a pattern seen in all non-BJP ruled states. "In democracy, the government is of the people, for the people and by the people."

DELHI ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE SUMMONS TOP PUNJAB OFFICIALS OVER PRIVILEGE MATTER

Diary Times Desk : The Delhi Assembly's Privileges Committee on Saturday issued summons to three senior officials of the Government of Punjab – the Additional Chief Secretary (Home), the Director General of Police (DGP), and the Commissioner of Police, Jalandhar – directing them to appear in person before the committee on February 27. The summons has been issued under the relevant Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business of the House in connection with an ongoing privilege matter. The committee is scheduled to hold its sitting on February 27 to deliberate on issues arising from alleged remarks attributed to Atishi, Leader of Opposition in the Delhi Assembly. According to the Secretariat, the written replies submitted by the concerned Punjab officials pursuant to the committee's earlier directions have been taken on record and will be examined during the forthcoming sitting. However, the committee has reiterated that matters of privilege are personal to the individuals concerned and must be answered in their individual capacity, as conveyed earlier in the Secretariat's communication dated February 13.

YAMUNANAGAR'S TOWN AND PLANNING DEPARTMENT DEMOLISHES UNPAVED ROADS, DEMARCATION BLOCKS IN VYASPUR

Diary Times Desk : A team of Town and Country Planning department demolished several unpaved roads, demarcation blocks and damp proof course in an illegal colony in Vyaspur town of Yamunanagar district. The said unauthorised colony was being developed on the Vyaspur-Chhachhrauli road in Vyaspur town of Yamunanagar, which covered an area of about 2 acres.

District Town Planner (DTP) Rajesh Kumar said that the demolition action was initiated with the assistance of the district administration. "Following orders from the Deputy Commissioner Preeti, the demolition drive was carried out with the help of Duty Magistrate Sanjeev Kumar, Technical Assistant of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Department and police force," said DTP Rajesh Kumar.

"Notices were issued to the defaulters as per rules under subsection-2 of the Controlled Area Act number-12 of 1963," the DTP said. He said that the defaulters did not comply with departmental orders. He further added that the landowners did not obtain the necessary permission before establishing this illegal colony, hence the demolition drive was carried out. He appealed to the general public that no one should buy or sell plots in illegal colonies.

Drones have already revolutionized warfare. They're about to do it again

Invention, it must be humbly admitted, does not consist in creating out of void, but out of chaos." Mary Shelley, "Frankenstein," 1818.

"War is chaos. It always has been. But technology makes it worse. It changes the fear." Pierce Brown, "Golden Son," 2015.

Drones – and artificial intelligence – have reshaped the modern battlefield and are about to do so again. Nowhere is that more evident than in Ukraine.

Invaded by Russia in 2022, outmanned and outgunned by one of the world's strongest militaries, Kyiv quickly proved that drones – in the air, on the ground, and at sea – could hold off a Russian victory that many expected within weeks, if not days.

Yoti advises social media platforms including Meta about their age verification options. The group now has 12 methods, including phone, email, and ID checks, and the list is growing. Age-restricted sites give users a choice about which method they'd prefer.

Cheaper and easier to build than manned vehicles, and in some cases more effective, drones are a military planner's dream – and greatly reduce the risk of a pilot or operator being killed in action.

Brad Lendon
But drones came to the forefront of warfare relatively recently, some analysts say, with the 2020 conflict between Armenia and Azerbaijan in Nagorno-Karabakh a major turning point.

Much like the Kalashnikov rifle in the previous century, mass adoption of drones became an asymmetric weapon of choice for forces facing long odds in global warfare, such as the Hamas militant group in Gaza; anti-junta rebels in Myanmar's civil war; and the militaries of poorer nations, including many in Africa.

But the Goliaths have caught up, while – according to one report – drug cartels the world over are innovating, improving and adapting drones to fight the narco-wars of the future.

"It's like gunpowder. That's how insanely it's changed the war," Patrick Shepherd, a former US Army officer, said of the advent of cheap aerial drones.

Its invention from chaos, as myriad regional conflagrations coincide with an era of unparalleled technological advance. It's probably just the beginning.

The evolution of drones

Drones aren't a recent invention. Britain and the United States experimented with radio-controlled unmanned aircraft during World War I, according to the Imperial War Museum in London.

"We were flying hundreds of drones over North Vietnam during the war," said Russ Lee, a curator in the aeronautics department at the National Air and Space Museum in Washington. During that Southeast Asian conflict in 1960s and early '70s, US forces began using drones for many of the same missions we see today – reconnaissance or carrying munitions, or for use as decoys and psy-ops platforms, according to the Imperial War Museum.

The US began widespread use of drones during Operation Desert Storm, the response to Iraq's 1990 invasion of Kuwait. The Tomahawk land-attack missile – a cruise missile but also an unmanned aerial vehicle as it can change course and target in-flight – saw its first combat in 1991.

Australia's About To Find Out

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU KICK MILLIONS OF TEENS OFF SOCIAL MEDIA?

It's August, and a show of hands in an auditorium filled with 300 students at All Saints Anglican School in Australia shows that few of the Grade 9 and 10 students sitting in plush red seats had heard of the country's impending ban on social media, much less how to prepare for it.

"People have basically thought, what is it we do offline? Do we let young people into strip clubs, into bars, buying alcohol, buying cigarettes? What are the norms that we have and what are the norms that we want to have online?"

"It's very important to save photos," Kirra Pendergast, founder of cyber safety organization Ctrl+Shift, lectures from the stage. "You need to prepare."

An alarmed murmur spreads around the room as the students realize what's about to be lost. "Can you get your account back when you turn 16?" one girl asks. "What if I lie about my age?" asks another.

Less than two weeks before the ban, we have more answers.

From December 10, sites

that meet the Australian government's definition of an "age-restricted social media platform" will need to show that they're doing enough to eject or block children under 16 or face fines of up to 49.5 million Australian dollars ($32 million).

The list includes Snapchat, Facebook, Instagram, Kick, Reddit, Threads, TikTok, Twitch, X, and YouTube. The government says it's protecting children from potentially harmful content; the sites say they're already building safer systems.

Meta says it'll start deactivating accounts and blocking new Facebook, Instagram and Threads accounts from December 4. Under-16s are being encouraged to download their content.

Snap says users can deactivate their accounts for up to three years, or until they turn 16. Snap streaks – the daily swapping of photos of ordinary life, vacations, walls, foreheads, anything to signal an online presence – will end.

There's another sting in the ban, too, coming at the end of the Australian school year before the summer break in the southern hemisphere. For eight weeks, there'll be no school, no teachers – and no scrolling.

For millions of children, it could be the first school break they spend in years without the company of time-killing social media algorithms, or an easy way to contact their friends. Even for parents who support the ban, it could be a very long summer.

Other countries around the world are taking notes as Australia explores new territory that some say mirrors safety evolutions of years past – the dawning realization that maybe cars need safety belts, and that perhaps cigarettes should come with some kind of health warning.

As with any seismic step in social policy, there are cheer squads, naysayers and those who don't care what Australia – a country known to love rules – is doing to (and for) its children.

A Blue Schoolbag In A Mass Grave

SRI LANKA'S BLOODY PAST IS RE-EMERGING FROM THE SOIL

Two human skeletons lie entangled on the rough earth – the arms of one wrapped around the other's head, as though protecting them from danger. Simply known as numbers 177 and 178, their identities remain a mystery.

Helen Regan

Tamils, who have lived in the north and east of Sri Lanka for thousands of years, are primarily followers of Hinduism, with a significant Christian minority population, but the commission determined that the fact the bodies were buried naked rules out customary Hindu burials. "There is a reasonable likelihood that the burials were unlawful and pursuant to extrajudicial killings," it said.

They are among 240 human skeletal remains, including children and babies, uncovered at this mass gravesite in Chemmani in Sri Lanka's northern Jaffna district.

"This place is a crime scene no entry," reads a sign at the entrance.

Numbered white cards placed alongside the bones mark how many skeletons have been found since digging began in May of this year, reviving decades-old allegations of wartime atrocities and cover-ups.

In the heartland of the country's ethnic Tamil minority, a bloody and brutal history is re-emerging from the soil.

But it is difficult to bury the past entirely.

From 1983 to 2009, the South Asian island nation of 21 million endured a brutal civil war between the Sri Lankan army and the separatist militant group the Liberation Tigers of Tamil Eelam (LTTE). More commonly known as The Tamil Tigers, the group was listed as a terrorist organization by many countries including the United States.

The war was fought along ethnic lines, pitting the majority Buddhist Sinhalese state against the predominantly Hindu ethnic minority rebels fighting for a separate Tamil homeland in the north and east after years of anti-Tamil violence. The Tigers were ultimately defeated.

Atrocities were committed by both sides, according to the United Nations, which estimates up to 100,000 people were killed in the conflict, with thousands of others forcibly disappeared.

Sixteen years after the war ended, families of the victims and missing are still fighting for justice and accountability.

"One day the truth will come," said V S Niranjan, a lawyer representing relatives of people who went missing in Jaffna.

A blue school bag

Just a stone's throw from a main road, the Chemmani gravesite is one of more than 20 mass graves identified in Sri Lanka.

Many of the gravesites that pockmark the north and east of the country are believed to contain the victims of atrocities committed during the civil war. Caught between warring rebel fighters and the Sri Lankan army, the Tamil community in these regions bore the brunt of the violence.

The military occupied Jaffna from 1995 until the end of the war. Chemmani first gained international attention in 1998 when Sri Lankan soldier former Lance Cpl. Somaratne Rajapakse, who was on trial for the rape and murder of schoolgirl Krishanthi Kumaraswamy, confessed that hundreds of Tamils had been buried there after the Sri Lankan army retook Jaffna.

For decades, the mass grave remained hidden until construction workers clearing land in the grounds of a Hindu cemetery in February unearthed human skeletal remains.

Their discovery prompted a court-ordered forensic excavation of the site in May and June, which initially uncovered 19 skeletons. Since then, the bones of hundreds more people have been found.

A baby's milk bottle, a blue schoolbag, bangles and cloth fragments have been uncovered alongside the bones.

More than 90% of the remains had no form of clothing. The bodies were buried in a disordered way, heaped together in shallow graves of 1.5-2 feet, according to the Human Rights Commission of Sri Lanka, an independent national body that investigates violations of fundamental rights.

MY VENICE: BIANCA ARRIVABENE, DEPUTY CHAIRMAN OF CHRISTIE'S ITALY

Diary Times Desk : The build-up to the Venice Biennale is my favourite time of year. Over the coming months, many of our most important clients will pass through the city. Delegations from all the different countries, as well as curators, gallerists and artists, are already in town, working on their shows. Sitting in a café, you may overhear conversations about this piece of art or that installation. You hear about which artists are coming and their plans, and your imagination starts running wild.

There are so many shows to look forward to. I can't wait to see Jenny Saville at Ca' Pesaro, Marina Abramović at Gallerie dell'Accademia, Lorna Simpson at Punta della Dogana, Michael Armitage at Palazzo Grassi and the Peggy Guggenheim show at Palazzo Venier dei Leoni – along with the Biennale itself, of course.

I was a teenager when I first visited the Biennale. I found it exhilarating, and I knew I wanted to be part of this huge organisation that involved artists from all over the world, each of them with something important to say.

Start the Biennale with a coffee at Paradiso right at the entrance of the Giardini. Get there early, before the gates open, and think about which artists you would like to see. Make the Central Pavilion your first destination of the day and take it from there.

If you sit in Harry's Bar long enough, you'll see everyone in town. All the artists, curators, collectors and celebrities pass through those doors at some point during the Biennale. Caffè Florian on Piazza San Marco is another good people-watching spot. Go there at sunset and you'll see the whole art world walk by.

The brand new kid in town is Do Farai, a lovely, tiny trattoria in the Dorsoduro neighbourhood where the food is yummy. Enjoy a drink in the Campiello dei Squelini, before or afterwards, to experience Venetian perfection.

The best focaccia comes from Dal Non Colussi bakery in Calle Lunga San Barnaba. It is a family business that was started by the grandfather in 1956 and is now run by the granddaughter, the lovely Marina. It's very special. Any waterfront café will give you a taste of Venetian life, but for a sense of the real Venice you should head to the Rialto fish market on a Saturday morning. Have a spritz at Naranzaria, just off the market square. They do great cicchetti and aperitifs.

OUR BEST KEPT SECRET IN 2025: HOW SOME 500 SPECIALISTS ACROSS 40 DEPARTMENTS DROVE $1.5 BILLION WORTH OF PRIVATE SALES*Diary Times Desk :

Adrien Meyer, global head of Private Sales, and his team at Christie's have a very particular set of skills. They probably know more than anyone else about where the world's most important works of art are kept – and can connect their owners with willing buyers behind closed doors to broker deals beyond the auction saleroom.

In 2025, he oversaw the equivalent of four transactions a day, conducted via an international network of 500 specialists spread across 40 departments, ranging from antiquities to wine, Chinese ceramics to handbags, and rare books to contemporary art. Still signing contracts on 31 December, his team made $1.5 billion worth of private sales – a quarter of Christie's total sales in 2025. The previous year, private sales were up 41 per cent: proof that if an object exists, chances are Meyer and his Private Sales team can match it with a buyer.

'My job is to hunt for works of art. But unlike auctions, where you act on behalf of the seller, private sales are more focused on the buyer,' he says. 'We get to know their tastes, patterns, needs, then find things that might interest them.'

It's a skill Meyer has acquired over the course of more than 25 years in the business. 'From the age of seven, every weekend my father would take me to the local salerooms in Paris,' he recalls. 'I was fascinated by the atmosphere and the chance of a discovery.' After studying at the Ecole du Louvre, Meyer began working in the world of auctions around 2000, joining Christie's European Furniture department four years later. In 2010, he moved to the Impressionist and Modern Art department in New York, before taking the reins of Private Sales in 2019. Despite the department's discreetness, it has existed since the very beginning. In 1779, the company's founder, James Christie, negotiated the private sale of around 200 paintings from the collection of Britain's first prime minister, Robert Walpole, to Catherine the Great for £40,500 – works that are now a key part of the Hermitage collection. Many buyers still have similar motivations today, says Meyer. A collector might approach him because they require a particular period Basquiat to fill a gap in their collection, or a Richter to hang above their mantel in time for a party at the weekend. A decorator might be urgently seeking a Roman marble to furnish a project that can't wait until the next auction season, or someone could be looking for a Birkin bag for their partner's birthday the next day. Then there are those burdened with 'underbidder regret'.

BARCELONA OPEN TO GIVING AWAY STRUGGLING FORWARD IN PLAYER PLUS CASH DEAL TO SIGN TOP ATTACKING TARGET

Diary Times Desk : Barcelona's pursuit of Julian Alvarez is gathering serious momentum, as the club grow more and more desperate to bring in a new forward this coming summer. To that end, ournalist Sique Rodriguez (h/t FCB World) has provided a fresh update on Barcelona's pursuit of Alvarez, adding that the club are already thinking about how to structure a deal.

It appears Barcelona are ready to put Ferran Torres emerging as a potential makeweight in any agreement with Atletico Madrid. It is not difficult to see why his name has come up in this context. Torres started brightly this season, racking up 13 goals in the first half of the campaign and looking every bit like the striker Barcelona had long needed him to be. But since the turn of the year, the wheels have come off rather dramatically. His last goal came on January 31 against Elche, and he has gone without a goal for almost two months since then.

BARCELONA WILL SELL TWO BIG NAMES IN THE SUMMER TO ACCOMMODATE TWO NEW SIGNINGS – REPORT

Diary Times Desk : Hansi Flick's tenure at Barcelona has largely been a success so far, and it is only now that some doubts are beginning to creep in about his project for the first time.

Yet, what he has achieved with the team so far cannot be discounted, especially when one considers that he has had little support from the club financially for signings.

The Catalans hope to change that next summer, and there is a sense of belief that the financial 1:1 rule can be reached in June pending a few operations. As confirmed by SPORT in a recent update, Deco and Hansi Flick have a relatively clear road map for the upcoming summer transfer window where there will be some big moves in terms of the squad.

There will not be many changes in the team, especially with the core, but it is speculated that two players will have to depart the club in June. The decision over Robert Lewandowski is a major one for the summer, with the club either set to part ways with the Polish striker or renewing him on significantly lower wages.

HANSI FLICK TALKS PEDRI, YAMAL, GAVI AND MORE AHEAD OF BARCELONA VS LEVANTE

Diary Times Desk : After suffering back-to-back defeats, Barcelona will be determined to get back on the winning track as they take on Levante on Sunday.

Heading into this important clash, Hansi Flick talked about Barcelona's recent struggles while offering his thoughts on the fitness levels of Pedri and Gavi, among other things. First things first, Flick was asked to comment on Barcelona's recent form, with the Catalans notably losing to Atletico Madrid and Girona.

"I'm extremely focused. The current situation and the two days of rest we got have helped us think about a lot of things. For me, this is a huge opportunity to see how far the team can go. We know that when we play with confidence, things go better," he said. The coach added that he is confident of Barcelona's chances against Levante, though he admitted it won't be an easy game for the Blaugrana. "Now we have a match on our home ground in front of our fans, and we have to fight to win all three points. It's important to score goals for more confidence, but we have to work even harder.

BARCELONA DISCUSS CONTRACT RENEWAL OF VETERAN FORWARD AMID MLS, SAUDI ARABIA OFFERS

Diary Times Desk : The future of Robert Lewandowski is something worth keeping an eye on as we approach the final couple of months of the season. From a statistical point of view, Lewandowski is enduring his worst season at Barcelona. He has struggled with injuries during the start of the season, and his physical decline has been slightly evident. However, he still remains a proactive frontman who can score at least 20 goals for the season even at the age of 37. And that is precisely why Joan Laporta is keen on extending his contract. According to Fabrizio Romano, Laporta, in a recent meeting with agent Pini Zahavi, has discussed the renewal of Lewandowski's contract, which expires at the end of the season. The relationship between Laporta and Zahavi remains excellent and the club are considering the possibility of offering Lewandowski a one-year contract extension, although it might come with a significant salary reduction.

DECO'S TOP DEFENSIVE TARGET KEEN ON A MOVE TO BARCELONA – REPORT

Diary Times Desk : Barcelona are going through a curious moment as far as their transfer market plans are concerned.

The club are clear about their desire to sign a new striker who can replace Robert Lewandowski in the years to come.

At the same time, Barcelona are also in dire need of a new centre-back. They have been linked with a move for Nico Schlotterbeck, but it seems the club are more than fine letting Real Madrid take the charge.

This is perhaps a signal that Barcelona might be eyeing a different strategy, as indicated by Diario SPORT. As per the Spanish news outlet, Deco's plans for Barcelona's defensive reinforcements don't revolve around Schlotterbeck. Instead, the Barcelona sporting director is planning a move for Alessandro Bastoni, who has been heavily linked with a move to Catalonia as well. The report adds that Barcelona are actively trying to approach the Italian international, regarded as one of the best defenders in Serie A.

LEVANTE MANAGER WARY OF WOUNDED BARCELONA AHEAD OF FACEOFF: 'NOT THE BEST TIME TO PLAY AGAINST THEM'

Diary Times Desk : Barcelona take on Levante on match day 25 of La Liga and will look to turn around their fortunes as they return to the Spotify Camp Nou after a horrendous week.

After being pulped 4-0 by Atletico Madrid in the Copa del Rey, the Catalans lost to Girona away from home taking a second straight defeat on their result sheet.

In the process, they handed the lead in La Liga back to Real Madrid and now must fight to stay within touching distance of Los Blancos. Speaking to the media ahead of his team's clash against Barcelona tomorrow, Levante manager Luis Castro spoke on a plethora of topics including the form of Hansi Flick's team in recent weeks.

Praising Barcelona despite their recent rut, he called them one of the best in the world and spoke on how playing them after two defeats would not be easy. "They are one of the best teams in the world. It's not the best time to play against them, because when they lose they come to the next game with maximum concentration," he began.
